A ROUND OF TALK.

Logic

The farmer was swinging his scythe with a will. His Dokey was turning the primitive mill.

"My friend," quoth the Solver of Tangled Affairs, "What use is the bell that your animal wears?"

"Why," answered the Farmer, "it tells on the brute; it rings when he moves; when he stops it is mute;

"And so, though I am away from my work, I'll know if the gray-coated scamp is a shirk."

"Right well!" cried the Sage; "but supposing, instead of working, your Dokey just wagged his head;

"The bell would still ring like a steple peccad, and how would you know he was taking a rest?"

The Farmer looked hard at the Sage (it appears) Suspecting the length of the logical ears,

Then, giving the hunch of his servant a slap, "This Dokey don't know any logic,"

"—Gladly!"— Arthur Gutterman in the New York Times.

STILL AT IT.—Although the chances for a successful carrying out of the plans this season for handling the tobacco crop appear doubtful the promoters of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co. are still at work on plans.

A member of the company writing of the plans in the Lexington Observer explains the plan of organization in a concise way as follows: "We mean by organization, to incorporate a company under the laws of the State; we mean for every farmer to take at least one share of stock; we want him to pay in ten per cent on that one share, which is $10 per share and ten per cent would be one dollar. When that is done and each man takes his allotment, the company is organized and President, Treasurer and Board of Directors are elected by the stockholders, and this ten per cent is paid to the Treasurer. The next thing is to secure the necessary money to pay for the tobacco, and the next is that the growers sell their tobacco to their own company at a good price according to grade. This tobacco is bought and paid for at a better average price than they received for it for several years past, and in order to provide a capital and make this a strong company, they take a certain amount of stock in this Burley Tobacco Co., and take it as part pay for their tobacco. At the proper time, this tobacco is sold to the manufacturers at a profit. Out of these profits this company proposes to secure its capital for next year, and the next, and so on. It also expects to be able out of its profits to pay a good dividend to farmers on this stock."

LEAN UP.—The early appearance of typhoid fever in our community this summer should emphasize the necessity of the cleaning up of the streets and alleys as well as the private premises of the town. According to health authorities the weeds which are allowed to grow promiscuously about one's premises are a menace to the health of a neighborhood and some towns have laws compelling citizens to keep down the weeds. If Springfield hasn't any such law the City Fathers should pass one to that effect after first giving the public streets a thorough cleaning at the town's expense. A clean town is a sure sign of a prosperous one and likewise is a guarantee of healthfulness.

COFFEES.—Speaking of clean ing up there are other things about the town which also need to be cleaned and one thing is the habitual loafer. Almost any day this summer when the demand for laborers were strongest there could be seen on the streets a string of loafers. Work? Not much. They are

DR. CRUME IN TROUBLE.

Dr. Samuel M. Crume of this County, Is Arrested in Louisville for Meticulous Shooting

Dr. Samuel M. Crume who has been practicing medicine at Williamsburg for some time but who went to Louisville a few weeks ago to take a course at Medical College, has become involved into an ugly escapade. The following account of the affair is taken from last Saturday's Courier Journal: "Charged with maliciously shooting Michael Montedónico, son of Anthony Montedónico, Samuel M. Crume, the medical student was arrested last night by Patrolmen Dolan, O'Leary and LaPaille. Montedónico is at St. Joseph's Infirmary and has a flesh wound in the left thigh and a shattered right pelvis bone. It is not expected that his injuries will prove fatal. The shooting occurred in a stair way at the rear of the building at 306 West Market street where it is said, Crume and some friends had gone to see two women who have rooms there. "The women, who gave their names as Carrie and Tillie Ford and who are known to the police as the Rheinhardt sisters, said last night that they had attempted to get the men to leave and that the trouble then arose that resulted in the shooting. There are several stories of the affair but the one held by the police is to the effect that the trouble occurred after the men had left the building. At that time, they say, Montedónico, who lives in the house, leaned out of the window and called to them. He then started down the stairs and met Crume coming up. They then saw Crume fired five shots at Montedónico and turned and throwing his revolver, which was forty-four caliber, into an alley as he ran through the alley. "Crume, it is said, stopped in a restaurant on Third avenue, near the scene of the shooting, and after first calling for beer took milk and hurried out the street. He was arrested on information furnished the police by the men who had accompanied him to the place and was identified at the jail by the two women. "He declares that he is innocent. He denies any knowledge of the shooting. He has a wife and baby and is a student in the Kentucky Medical University. His pistol, he declared, was at his home. He lives at 811 Carver street. He has seen three and half years' service, he says, in the United States army and has two honorable discharges. "Montedónico was taken at first to the City Hospital, but was later removed to St. Joseph's Infirmary, where Drs. G. W. Griffiths and W. H. Wathen operated upon him. The bullet that struck the left thigh was found to have narrowly missed the femoral artery, and that in the right hip to have shattered the pelvic bone. The bullet in the hip was not located but the wound was dressed, and it is believed by the physicians in charge, that recovery is probable.

OF LOCAL INTEREST.

POPULAR APPOINTMENT.—A fitting recognition of his long and faithful service in the party is the appointment of Judge C. R. McDowell, of this city to the high office of Democratic State Election Commissioner. This appointment will meet with approval of everyone acquainted with the genial and popular Judge who numbers his friends throughout the State by the thousands. He is a man well qualified to fill this important and responsible position, being a lawyer of marked ability, a man of sound common sense frank and straightforward and capable in every respect. The News congratulates Gov. Beckham and the people of Kentucky upon the appointment and predicts that the new incumbent will reflect credit and honor both upon himself and the party which he will represent. Judge A. R. Barnard of Richmond, was appointed the Republican Commissioner and is thoroughly qualified.—Danville News.

WHAT WE WANT.—For the benefit of county correspondents who wish to know just what we want from them we will say that we want deaths, births, marriages, real estate sales, stock sales, confederations, accidents, condition of crops, weather conditions, visitors from abroad, society meetings, lodge meetings, church news, school news, family reunions, public meetings, curiosities, relics, robberies, murders, something good about people and anything of general interest. What we don't care so much about are visiting one neighbor with another "best gr." items, prices which are understood only by the writer or anything calculated to cause offense or to wound one's feelings.

STRIKING OUT.—The Springfield base ball team having defeated with such ease all comers on the home grounds is to take a little tour away from home and try their luck. The team will go to Versailles and Frankfort the last of this week to cross bats with the clubs of those towns. The team which leaves here will be about as strong an amateur club as the State can produce. The Springfield players will be assisted by several of the best ball players from Danville. Ward of Greenburg will be taken to assist in the pitching and every position on the team will be filled by a good man.

THE INSTITUTE.—The Washington County Teachers' Institute for white teachers will be held at the graded school building here next week. Prof. W. O. Winfree of Middleboro, and member of the State Board of examiners has been engaged as instructor and an interesting session is anticipated. Prof. Winfree is a fine instructor and an especially good program has been arranged for the teachers this time. Visitors who are interested in the cause of education are always welcomed at these institutes and a good attendance is anticipated.

On the banks of the Amazon, far away, far away, in the heart of the great forest, there grows a tree which bears a fruit which is the greatest of all. It is the fruit of the tree of life, the fruit of the tree of knowledge, the fruit of the tree of wisdom. CAMP MEETING

As Seen by Our Valley Hill Correspondent at Alico, Ky.

Owing to recent absence I cannot find any new items for a letter this week, and sincerely hope that the editor will excuse me, but as I had the honor of attending the great Holiness Camp Meeting at Alico, during my absence, I wish to say to the dear readers that they indeed missed one great feature of christian life. The meeting was one of the best attended ever held at that place, and many were converted into the ways of the Holiness Christians. The ablest speaker was Miss Lucy Mayhan, of London, and the manner in which she delivered her sermon, the expiation of God's words, and the impressive tone to which she is right heartily summoned up a God sent christian by whom many wrecked lives were saved, and her effective work will tend to make many sinners realize their great mistake and make efforts to walk in the "Royal Path of Life." She is indeed a christian woman and deserves credit for her actual accomplishments. Another worker of the meeting was Mrs. Anna Goody, of this county. The managers, Messrs. Johnson, of that place, strove hard to establish and did succeed in building a large tabernacle for the benefit of the meeting which was dedicated to God last Sunday.

People from several states and from almost every county in Kentucky visited the tabernacle during the weeks work. A good crowd was in attendance day and night and it is to be hoped that every one of them realized for what the meeting was being held and not to make mock of the work which seemed so very different from that of other denominations. One thing that is not endorsed by the writer is the erecting and using of refreshment stands outside of the grounds. Also the steam riding gallery which came to the station on its way to Shepherdsville and which was erected near by. That had a tendency to keep the christian workers from accomplishing what was intended as the young set was merely in the tabernacle for a rest until the gallery opened and not for the benefit of the soul.

News is rather scarce this week but if the readers will pardon us we will promise to do better next time.

There seems to be quite a demand for hogs as there has been several buyers in this vicinity recently gathering up small bunches. There is a few more yet for sale. The prices paid range from 6 to 10 cents. The corn crop promises to be good and some think that they will go to 7 or 8 cents.

The Mooresville correspondent stated last week in his letter that he had been informed that ye humble scribe, Lillie, wanted the Republican nomination for Representative. We do not know how such a report got started for we had never thought of it.

It is true some ago we were asked to make the race but at once entered our protest against it for we do not desire to get mixed up in politics for we are not politicians.

Sensitiveness of Plants. Darwin gave it as his opinion that some plants can see, and an Indian botanist relates some curious incidents which tend to verify the belief. One morning the teacher of the students of a convalescent home had decided to leave toward his leg as he lay in an attitude of repose, he tried a series of experiments with long pole, placing it in such a position that the leaves would have to turn away from the light in order to reach it. In every case he found that the leaflets set themselves vibrantly toward the pole, and a few hours had turned themselves almost around it.

HAY FEVER FOR 27 YEARS

Well Known New England Woman Cured Her Hay Fever—Cure Was Lasting.

For more than a year he has not been away from home often on remains and conducted the funeral. Dr. Demaree had lived in
